I am dead set against stopping XM from telling us as drivers traffic and weather information. As a long haul driver it helps us plan trips thru and around major cities. That is the only way we can get the info we need to plan trips far enough out to plan ahead for weather and traffic. you cannot get that information one or two days ahead for weather on standard radio. you cannot hold a standard fm station long enough to get the info. and you have to be 5 miles or less closer to get it by then it is too late to plan any thing. So please donot let the big companys stop us from getting the info we need as drivers besides we pay XM for the info in monthly subscription just like you do with cable TV or satellite TV Thank you for your time
